Pierre is a tenacious singer-songwriter in the vein of David Gates (Bread), David Gray, Cat Stevens and the like. His voice is endowed with rich earth tones that add an unusual texture to the well-constructed yet relatively simple songs he composes. Therein lies a formula for success. Add to that an affable vibe, a good understanding of the importance of networking in the music business and it's only a matter of time before just rewards are reaped.

We met up in 2008 when Pierre approached Peace of Eden to record some new songs he wanted to add to an existing catalogue of material and the result was a self titled EP which has been favorably received far and wide. In November 2008 Pierre returned to Peace of Eden to complete a dance track titled Desert Light. It needed voice created by Glynne Storm. Desert Light is now making its way onto play lists in the EU and UK.
